West Texas Innovation Network Launches First Entrepreneur Bootcamp

ABILENE, TEXAS---On November 4 and 5, Abilene Christian University's Grigg's Center for Entrepreneurship and Philanthropy will be hosting and presenting the first Entrepreneur Bootcamp. The two-day intensive bootcamp is designed for aspiring entrepreneurs who:

- Are still looking for the right idea
- Have an idea and want help to increase their likelihood of success
- Have recently launched a venture and need assistance with their new business

In addition to high quality training from area experts and successful entrepreneurs, attendees will also receive:

- Free, individual consulting session following bootcamp to create an action plan for moving forward
- Free entry to ACU's 2012 Springboard Ideas Challenge
- Eligibility to participate in new Mentor Program managed by the West Texas Innovation Network. As part of the bootcamp, attendees will have the opportunity to connect with recognized community leaders, seasoned businesspersons and role models who voluntarily act as a mentor

Individuals who register by November 1, receive the super discount rate of $99. After November 1, the rate is $249. For further information about the event and to register, visit
